Additions mean jobs

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The second phase of a Tri-City Regional Port District project will bring 23 new jobs to the city.

The $2 million project includes improvements to the industrial park and harbor. It is being funded in part by an Economic Development Agency grant.

The other part of the project will be covered by $1.4 million in supplemental revenue bonds issued by the Port District.

The improvements will be an asset to everyone dealing with the Port District, said Robert Wydra.

Port District assistant general manager.

"Some improvements will increase our capabilities — they will make the transfer of bulk more cost-effective," he said. "The impact of the improvements will be most felt by those who ship through the Port District though."

The first phase of the project involved asphalt road repair and all for the rail storage yard.

Phase one of the project cost approximately $240,000.

The second phase includes seven components.

The first component involves con-

No GOPs file in county races

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Filing time for Madison County political offices is Monday at 5 p.m., but as of Wednesday afternoon, no Republican candidates have thrown hats in the ring.

A dozen Democratic candidates will vie for their party's nomination on Nov. 5. On Monday, Aug. 1986, five Democrats are running for five seats on the county board.

COUNTY CLERK Evelyn Bowles, Edwardsville, is the only candidate for county clerk so far. Likewise, incumbent Treasurer Michael Henkhaus is currently unopposed.

Two of the five candidates for sheriff are from Granite City. Lt. Col. Robert Astorian, Granite City, has won his party's endorsement.

Other candidates for sheriff include Marty Levitt, Granite City; Ron Chappell, Hartford; Beverly E. Smith, Cottage Hills; and James Terry, Edwardsville.

TOM VOLOSKI, Madison, has announced plans to run as a Republican candidate for sheriff.

Four of the candidates for regional school superintendent are from Granite City: Harry Briggs Jr., Granite City, won the Democratic party's endorsement.

Opposing him in the primary will be Gilbert Wadsworth, Granite City, Vandalia, who will give up his seat on the county board to run for superintendent; Pat Noeth Gowal, Granite City, and Worden School District Superintendent John Stevenson.

CURRENTLY, two candidates for County Board's unopposed, Board Chairman Billie Hagnauer is unopposed in District 20. Incumbent Donald C. Rea is unopposed for the 25th District seat.

Both men are from Granite City. Robert D. Bell, Harold E. Hartman and Fred Schmidt Jr., all of Granite City, will vie for the 21st District seat being vacated by Elmer Moffit.

Three local candidates: Emerald Dawes, Helen Hawkins and Frank

Lamb, will run for the seat left vacant by the retirement of Bill Webb in District 19.

IN CHOUTEAU TOWNSHIP, District 16, incumbent Morris Miles is being challenged by Dudley Lueben, Hoffman and Robert V. Matus, Granite City.

Pete Fields of Glen Carbon will oppose incumbent Mel Price for the Democratic party's nomination to the 21st Congressional seat.

Republican candidate for the 21st District seat are Robert Gaffner, Glen Carbon, and David Wheeler of Belleville.

REP. SAM WOLF, D-Glen Carbon, is currently unopposed in the 11th District race.

Republican Ron Stevens of Caseyville has two opponents seeking him in the 10th District race. They are Mike Slape, Collinsville, and David Vaughn of Fairview Heights.

Incumbent Gary Hammig, D-Bedford, will face Republican Becky Doyle of Gillespie in the 9th District race. Democrat James McPike is unopposed in the 12th District.

Pontoon can't find liability insurance

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

PONTOON BEACH — The effects of a liability insurance shortage have reached Pontoon Beach, it was announced during the Village Board of Trustees meeting Tuesday.

"We've got a problem with liability insurance for our boats," said Board President Glen Wilson. "We're looking around, but we're without liability insurance now."

THE VILLAGE'S liability insurance policy, which covered buildings and vehicles, expired Dec. 6. The current insurance carrier would not offer a renewal, Wilson said.

The village paid Casens Insurance Co. $1 million in liability coverage during the past year. The village may have to pay far more this year, Wilson said.

The lowest bid received so far for liability coverage was $10,000, Wilson said. Additional coverage for building contents costs more, he said.

AN INSURANCE BROKER is seeking liability insurance for the village, Wilson said. Should coverage be found, Wilson, through board authorization, will contract with an insurance provider.

The village is only one of numerous municipalities and government entities having trouble obtaining liability insurance.

Locally, Namokok Township, Madison County, Granite City School District, Metro-East Sanitary District and others have had a difficult time finding liability coverage.

VENICE RESIDENTS are not charged fees for trash hauling, but this may have to change, Echols warned.

"We cannot afford it to keep doing

A merrier Christmas

A TURKEY AND OTHER FOOD is taken home by Jimmy Nicholson, a laid-off worker of the American Steel Foundries, which shut down operations in June 1982. Nicholson was given the food basket by Project Help during its December distribution Wednesday. He worked at the local plant 20 years and is hopeful of being rehired when the plant reopens. A story on how workers are dealing with their unemployment will be in Press-Record/Journal Sunday.

Van opens communication lines during area disasters

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Greater flexibility in emergency situations such as tornadoes, large-scale fires and similar disasters is possible with use of a mobile communications command post.

Such a vehicle and its specially engineered communications core, owned by Southwestern Bell Mobile

Systems, was inspected here

Wednesday by officials from the St. Louis bi-state metropolitan region to be offered emergency use of Southwestern Bell's mobile police and fire department representatives.

Granite City is the first community in the Illinois section of the St. Louis bi-state metropolitan region to be offered emergency use of Southwestern Bell's mobile police and fire department representatives.

Precautions can prevent holiday fires

SPRINGFIELD — For a fire-safe holiday, the Office of the State Fire Marshal offers a reminder of how to save lives and property loss from fire during the gala holiday season.

Fire Marshal Jim Schmeilski points out "since half of Americans are unprotected by smoke detectors in their homes, this is a good time to install one for year-round fire safety. Smoke detectors, incidentally, make excellent gifts for loved ones."

Keep an escape plan and practice it. (Exit Drills in the Home). Instruct the babysitter in fire emergency procedures," Schmeilski suggested.

"A list of do and don'ts may seem contrary to the holiday spirit, but application and practice of it may save lives," he said.

NATURAL TREES. Be sure the tree is fresh, not dried green. Except for the tree having been stored in extremely cold weather, the needles should be supple and bend, not snap.

testing agency.

METALLIC TREES. Use only indirect spot lighting unless the tree label of an approved safety-testing agency. Do not use decorative lights on a metallic tree.

LIGHTING. Replace worn insulation, loose bulb sockets and broken plugs. Be sure all lighting sets are tested and approved.

Be sure decorative lights are not close to combustible materials. Do not use candles or open flame around or on the tree. Do not use candles in decorations or displays.

Make sure all decorative lights are turned off before going to bed or leaving the house. Provide a switch away from the tree for controlling the lights. Do not crawl around under the tree for controlling the lights. Do not crawl around under the tree for controlling the lights.

Indoor lighting sets should not be used outdoors. Be sure outdoor lighting sets, extension cords and fixtures are testing agency approved.

DECORATIONS. Use only flame retardants or noncombustible materials. Do not use untreated cotton balls, cotton swabs, paper or flammable foam plastics on or around the tree. Keep gift wrapping and electric toys away from the tree.

HOME SAFETY. If you use liquid-fuel space heaters, be sure they are vented and have an adequate air supply. Be sure also that the tree is testing-agency approved, and be sure to read and follow the manufacturer's instructions.

Refuel the heater outside where there's plenty of air; e.g., the garage, or patio. Use only the correct fuel, which should be stored properly in a safe place. Keep the space heater away from all combustible materials.

CELEBRATIONS. Be sure to keep exits clear. Practice safe stairs. Dispose of smoking materials correctly. Do not waste containers. Don't dump matches or cigarettes and cigar butts in trash — smoldering smoking materials can cause paper to burst into flames later.

The State Fire Marshal suggests that local fire departments can be very helpful in all fire safety questions and problems. For information, people may write or call the Office of the State Fire Marshal, 3150 Executive Park Drive, Springfield, Ill. 62703-4599; 1-217-522-7828.

Holiday activities for area students

Monday, Dec. 16, there will be a skating party for all special education students from 6 to 8 p.m. at Star-Dust Skating Rink in Pontiac Beach. Refreshments will be served, and parents are invited to attend and help if needed.

The Parents for Special Education and the Association for Retarded Citizens will hold it at Star-Dust Skating Rink in Pontiac Beach. Refreshments will be served, and parents are invited to attend and help if needed.

Contracts have been signed by the property owners, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper, to operate the well at Hemlock and Pine Streets for one year, Hall said. The contracts will give the Coopers release of any liabilities and that the land be purchased by permanent users or a taxing district for a reasonable fee at the end of the year.

Meanwhile, city attorneys in Granite City are studying a contract to participate in operating the well.

"It was told it's a low priority item," Hall said. "I don't know what that means."

The Metro-East Sanitary District verbally agreed to participate in operating the well, Hall said.

Deep well efforts continue

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

NAMEOKI — Efforts to install and operate a deep well in the Dobreby Slough are continuing.

Nameoki Township Trustee Norm Hall said Saturday, Monday's Town Board of Trustees meeting.

Contracts have been signed by the property owners, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cooper, to operate the well at Hemlock and Pine Streets for one year, Hall said. The contracts will give the Coopers release of any liabilities and that the land be purchased by permanent users or a taxing district for a reasonable fee at the end of the year.

"WE'RE AT THE POINT now, the thing's been drawn out so long with the legal aspects, that we're not sure what might make us wait. Either it (the ground) will have to dry out or freeze over before we can get heavy trucks back there," he said.

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers officials who installed and tested the well last January, have said the well could have some effect on 500 to 600 homes within a 10-block radius of the well.

Memorial drive set Saturday

to the flagpoles, Conkovich said.

Those participating in the fundraiser will be collecting donations from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The money will go toward a monument honoring the 135 veterans who died in the three recent wars, Conkovich said.

The monument will be placed on the Granite City Hall lawn. The cost is estimated at $15,000, and the Granite City First National Bank will be the depository for contributions, Conkovich said.

Bauder appointed to MESD boardBy SUSANNE INDELICATO
Staff writer

GLENDALE CITY — A new commissioner sat at the table during President Meier's State Survey District Board meeting. He is Hoderick Bauder, 62, of 708 Third St., Venice. Bauder, who was appointed by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer last month, replaces Russell D. Robinson, a former board president who has served on the sanitary district board since 1972.

A hot blastman at Granite City Steel, Bauder has no immediate plans as a commissioner for the MESD.

"I'm going to take it a little slow," he said. "Shang's (Executive Director Shang Greathouse) done a good job."

Bauder's term expires in 1990, he said.

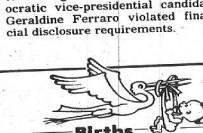

A lifelong resident of this area, Bauder is a former Madison County Board member. He was appointed to the county post in 1977 and elected to a two-year term in 1978. He was re-elected in 1980 and lost the post during the March 1984 primary to current board member Don Gandy.

A U.S. Navy veteran, War II veteran, he is a member of Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307.

Bauder also is a graduate of Venice High School.

He replaces Robinson as one of three Madison County representatives. The other Madison County members are Greathouse and Dave Bergfeld, both of Granite City.

The House Ethics Committee voted unanimously on Sept. 12, 1984, to investigate allegations that Democratic vice-presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro violated financial disclosure requirements.

Madison students plan SADD Week events

MADISON — Daniel S. Kostencik, principal of Madison High School, has declared the week of Dec. 16-20 as Students Against Driving Drunk (S.A.D.D.) Week, and Mayor John Bellcoff and the Madison City Council approved the proclamation for S.A.D.D. week in the City of Madison.

S.A.D.D. will host a variety of activities each day, plus holding a poster and essay contest to help students to become aware of the dangers of driving drunk and make the choice not to drive if they drink.

On Monday, Dec. 16, at 1:45 p.m., a kickoff assembly will be held with Principal Kostencik and Mayor Rick Stanley, half brother of Elvis Presley, who talked about the life and career of Elvis.

Tuesday, members of S.A.D.D. week committee will distribute S.A.D.D. buttons and literature during lunch hour; Wednesday, a cap guessing contest will be held at lunch time; and on Thursday, contest posters will be on display in the cafeteria.

Friday, during an all school assembly at 12:30 p.m., the students will view the alcohol related films "Bizarro Trial of the Pressured Peer" and "Until I Get Caught." Cash prizes of $10 and $5 will be awarded to the first and second place winners of contests.

The S.A.D.D. Week was developed by the S.A.D.D. organization members of Madison High School, headed by President Ralph Miller, Vice President Kelly Madison, Secretary Laura Hodges and membership, Robert Patterson. Faculty advisors are Sue Borstein and Charles Steptoe.

Drinking and driving is the number one cause of teen deaths in the United States. Fourteen teenagers are killed and 360 injured every day in alcohol related driving accidents. Driving while drinking is the major public health problem of teens in the United States with inquiries associated with motor vehicle use and organization spokesman said.

The goals of the S.A.D.D. group are: eliminate drunk driving and save lives; conduct a community awareness program; inform and inform students of the dangers of alcohol and drinking; and organize peer counseling programs for students concerns about alcohol, their president announced.

PRESIDENT
Central Bank
of Granite City

Q. Do you have any serious comments about interest during the Holiday Season and for the coming year?

A. Yes. We'd like to take this time to offer a few comments about prime interest. Not the prime interest rate, but Prime Interest.

For you, your family and your loved ones, and for our community as a whole. We've thoroughly enjoyed visiting with you each week and our desire is that through our answers to your questions, you may understand how the economy works, and that we may have helped with a specific problem or have given you a tip that will help your money go a little farther. We hope you've gotten a little better.

We'll continue those weekly visits with you in the coming year. But, for now, our Prime Interest is that you and yours enjoy a safe, healthy, happy and prosperous new year. Our Prime Interest is not centered in terms of percentages, but rather terms of friendship and good will this season and every season.

State parties while poor starve

Quite a party. While Marion and St. Clair counties struggle with high unemployment and pockets of poverty, it has recently been revealed the state spent $130,000 to celebrate the overly-grand opening of the State of Illinois Center, in Chicago, of course.

The governor reportedly "justified" the expense by saying something extraordinary was needed for the May 6 opening.

The extraordinary thing about the state's party is the hunger go without paying utility bills while the state has a $6,250 laser light show, and the poor go without adequate clothing while the state pays $15,000 for a big new bow.

All at the expense of Illinois' taxpayers.

The governor can say spending all that money was worth it to promote a major tourist attraction, but if there is no benefit, is it worth so much there is no need to profit at the expense?

Let the governor come here to thrill and amaze us with rhetoric about why so much was spent for so little — moments of luxury compared to lifetimes of deprivation. Let him do it while standing at 15th Street and Broadway in East St. Louis, or in north Venice, or in Hyde Park.

Certainly $130,000 would not make a scratch in this area's long-term problems. But there is no excuse for spending so much on a party.

The situation is comparable to the poor family man who, faced with insurmountable debts, uses his paycheck to get drunk.

As they say, a fool and his money are some party.

Illinois hit hard by unfair trade

What would be required to achieve a higher level of employment and prosperity in this area, and statewide? The Illinois Manufacturers Association thinks U.S. foreign policy is a key factor. IMA representatives have just outlined their views on the topic in Washington to the Illinois Congressional delegation.

Illinois is perhaps the hardest hit state, it was conceded. Whether readers agree with all, some or none of the IMA's positions, they may find the presentation worth reading.

The association sees a highly negative impact from our foreign policy, especially our trade policy, on manufacturing in Illinois and asks, "When is free trade not fair trade?"

The IMA pointed out that the U.S. foreign trade gap will widen to $150 billion by the end of the year, and that from 1979 through 1984 Illinois lost nearly 22.5 percent of its manufacturing jobs — a total of 266,000 jobs, the largest of any state in the country.

The group also urged the congressmen to retain the investment tax credit, enact product liability legislation, and not rescind the accelerated depreciation allowance.

The IMA, and the Congressional delegation each will appoint a three-member committee to act as liaison between the two groups on trade and other matters affecting Illinois.

To reverse "the tidal current of lost jobs and lost industrial base," the group said, "We must first treat the federal budget deficit as the top priority item facing the president and Congress."

"There must be across-the-board cuts, including all entitlement programs, from dairy product price supports and tobacco subsidies to popular social programs."

"Achieving significant budget cuts can take place only when Congress and the president recognize that the national interest absolutely requires it — and that no 'sacred cow' is more important than the future of our country."

"The president must be given the power of line-item veto. Only then when the federal budget is brought under control will the artificially inflated value of the U.S. dollar adjust to the value of other currencies, thereby eliminating one big cause of price differentials between domestic and imported goods. In foreign trade, Congress and the president should act to do a number of things:

1. "Adopt tax policies that enhance rather than hinder the trade competitiveness of American companies."

2. "Develop a coordinated and comprehensive trade policy to ensure that America is not at a disadvantage in world trade. We must become realistic and tough-minded about international trade. We are decades behind the times; we act as though we are still living in the 1950s when the U.S. called all the economic shots and the rest of the world was still picking up the pieces from World War II."

3. "We need to do a better job of protecting American technology against trademark and copyright piracy and counterfeiting."

4. "We need to retain a pool of capital in the U.S. and encourage accumulation."

5. "We need to make trade a national priority."

6. "We need to eliminate self-imposed restraints created by political considerations:

• "No more grain embargoes."

• "No more gas pipeline embargoes."

• "We should act carefully in determining our policy with respect to trade with South Africa, lest we shoot ourselves in the foot."

• "We should repeal the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act, which was enacted during a period of national naivete and President Carter."

• "We should carefully re draft antitrust laws to permit American corporations to compete abroad on the same terms as our trading rivals."

• "We need to revamp the leadership of the import/export bank to assure financial support for American companies on a basis consistent with the financial support provided by other governments for imports into the U.S."

• "We should establish controls against industrial targeting by foreign countries."

• "As a nation we have to realize that the involvement of foreign governments in our economy is no longer limited to 'smokesack' industries, and that the current distortions plaguing world trade and exchange rates will not simply go away with the passage of time."

• "Finally, we have to realize that without an equitable world-trading environment, no amount of American ingenuity, improved productivity, or reduced labor costs will allow our country's slide into even deeper trade deficits."

Contract controversies continue

The toughed action has been taken by the Justice Department against St. Louis-based General Dynamics and four individuals involved in a dispute with the government over a weapons contract. They have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Los Angeles on criminal fraud charges.

There was no easygoing atmosphere toward the nation's third largest defense contractor in this case. No one could be sure. Attorney General Ed Meese, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger of the Reagan administration in general of favoritism toward General Dynamics.

But the government still must prove its case in open court. And General Dynamics' top officers were indicted in good faith when they billed the Army $7.5 million for work done from 1978 to 1981 by the firm's Pomona, Calif., division on a prototype of the Sergeant York anti-aircraft gun.

What is clear, regardless of any criminal wrongdoing or innocence, is that the process of defense contracting in this country is poorly managed, tends itself to ques-tional manipulation and can lead contractors down a primrose path to prosecution.

It is entirely possible that the individual defendants in the General Dynamics case, including James M. Biggs, who led General Dynamics for years before becoming administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, have to a degree become scapegoats for the laxity of Pentagon practices in contract administration. We aren't saying they're innocent or guilty, just that the problem is far bigger than this one indictment.

There shouldn't be any opportunity for overcharging the government millions of dollars and it overcharges once again. It couldn't take five years for the government to find out about them.

Defense is this country's biggest business. It consumes $300 billion a year at a time when the federal government is running $200 billion a year into the red. The administration of defense, particularly defense contracts, must be made more businesslike. If it isn't, the scandals will continue.

Their home is dirty and roughtened as are many properties where children live because of cheaper rent. I don't understand why the Health Department doesn't crack down on landlords to clean up their properties, but evidently it does.

They do not have a washing machine. They do not go to the laundromat, as they use their money more foolishly. They wash by hand at times, but many times the kids are wearing dirty clothes and are without socks etc.

Even though to date, the children have not been truly physically abused, they have seen and heard many knock-down, drag-out fights.

The public assistance office is classing him as an alcoholic who is unable to work, with no more questions asked. Both my daughter and her husband are able-bodied and able to work.

He has abused the Medicaid card for his drugs. He constantly goes to psychiatrists or commits himself to the mental wards of hospitals (on Medicaid) so that the patients will prescribe "dopey" drugs.

He has a free prescription paid by Medicaid. He buys food with his food stamp, but uses the change received back to buy liquor.

They do not have a washing machine. They do not go to the laundromat, as they use their money more foolishly. They wash by hand at times, but many times the kids are wearing dirty clothes and are without socks etc.

Even though to date, the children have not been truly physically abused, they have seen and heard many knock-down, drag-out fights.

The public assistance office is classing him as an alcoholic who is unable to work, with no more questions asked. Both my daughter and her husband are able-bodied and able to work.

He has abused the Medicaid card for his drugs. He constantly goes to psychiatrists or commits himself to the mental wards of hospitals (on Medicaid) so that the patients will prescribe "dopey" drugs.

He has a free prescription paid by Medicaid. He buys food with his food stamp, but uses the change received back to buy liquor.

Their home is dirty and roughtened as are many properties where children live because of cheaper rent. I don't understand why the Health Department doesn't crack down on landlords to clean up their properties, but evidently it does.

State council to develop plan for dealing with AIDS

CHICAGO — Illinois Department of Public Health Director Dr. Bernard J. Turnock has announced the formation of a statewide council that will develop a strategic plan for dealing with AIDS.

The AIDS Interdisciplinary Advisory Council (AIAC) was created by Gov. James R. Thompson last May 21 to respond to what he said "the most severe public health hazard we have faced in our lifetime."

The council — developed and to be headed by the Department of Public Health — will make specific recommendations on AIDS control to the general assembly and the governor next spring.

The council's first meeting was Dec. 9 in the State of Illinois Center, 900 West Randolph St., Chicago.

"The broadest possible base of involvement and expertise is what we were looking for in bringing together all members of the AIAC," said Dr. Turnock.

"AIDS is a very complicated problem that is a critical priority of state government. We must move all segments of our society — both public and private — to produce intelligent and effective responses to this public health problem," Dr. Turnock said.

The broad-based council will be chaired by Dr. Renfrew Sherer of the Salt-Sherer Clinic of Cook County Hospital.

The leadership of the general assembly has been asked to designate two members from both the House of Representatives and the Senate.

School group votes against reorganization requirement

Representatives from 600 Illinois school boards voted overwhelmingly to oppose any future attempts by the legislature, the governor and the State Board of Education to require school districts to reorganize or consolidate.

The vote, by members of the Illinois Association of School Boards (IASB), was taken in late November in Chicago as part of a four-day conference of school officials from all over the state.

The resolution reaffirms that the IASB favors school district organization and consolidation to improve instruction, but not "changes based only on enrollment or geographic location." It adds that reorganization and merger studies should be initiated by districts, not the state.

It calls for the IASB to oppose legislation that contains financial incentives based only on district size or organization patterns and intended to force mergers.

The school board members favored language that would have called for repealing the reorganization provisions contained in this year's school reform legislation. These provisions require regional studies of whether districts should be consolidated.

Those who opposed the language argued it was neither realistic nor politic to attack the school reform bill, which was the result of negotiation and compromise among various groups.

Board members from a number of small districts testified in favor of the resolution, arguing that, in the words of one delegate, "bigger does not mean better; bigger does not mean fewer problems." As evidence, they cited high student test scores, high attendance records and sound financial conditions in many small districts.

The delegates passed a resolution designed to give boards the right to extend the school year if the legislature mandates increases in teacher salaries. Thrust of the resolution is that pay should be determined by districts, not the legislature, and that, as one delegate argued, "if salaries are mandated, boards should get something in return."

Board members also passed resolutions that:

— Call for defeat of proposals to eliminate the federal income tax deduction for state and local taxes.

— Encourage legislation to help schools deal with asbestos-related problems, by protecting districts from lawsuits involving asbestos exposure, by financing asbestos abatement, and by providing liability insurance coverage for districts and approved asbestos-removal contractors.

— Call for a study of the problems districts face in obtaining liability insurance.

Support legislation to create a fund of school districts to buy computer hardware and software. The fund would allow districts to borrow money at low interest rates from the State Board of Education.

— Encourage districts to increase parental awareness of the need to insure safety for children going to and from school.

The resolutions are policies that will guide activities and programs of the IASB, voluntary association of more than 600 school boards. The group provides information on all aspects of school governance and represents boards' views before the General Assembly.

Matthew 5:9 "Blessed are the peacemakers: For they shall be called the children of God."

The Christian community should be recognized as those who have peace that passes understanding. We are the ones whose being that we are owned by the Prince of Peace Jesus Christ.

Peace is not a plan. It is not reason ed out, thought out, or tested to see if it will work. It is a way of life above our ways and past finding out. Human reasoning and the peace of God are not always in agreement. Prepare for those who will tempt you, turning the other cheek, accepting persecution, these are the ways of peace. Give out, as they do bring about the conditions of peace because they are God's ways.

Let do it. Today.

struction on the truck-rail receiving facility. Construction will include truck and rail receiving pits with hoppers within a pole building enclosure. A concrete track will connect the new receiving pit to the existing conveyor system. The conveyor system will connect new truck and rail pits to the existing Tri-City Terminal Dry Bulk Product outbound conveyor.

The second stage includes the paving of 4,000 feet of port roadway. A 4,368 foot of port district roadways, including the levee road (from 20th Street to the Bulk Service Corporation building) and the general cargo dock access roadway, will be given a concrete base, followed by an oiling or chipping of the surface.

The next step concerns the construction of a Tri-City Terminal rail track. A total of 2,000 linear feet of track will be constructed on a terminal. Two switches will be constructed to tie the new track to the existing tracks serving the terminal.

The fourth step includes construction of a double lead track providing access to the harbor complex. A general cargo dock rail extension will be the last part of the project. This includes construction of 1,600 feet of additional ladder and storage tracks to be connected to the existing tracks.

Construction on the project is expected to begin April 14 and be completed by Aug. 15, 1986, Wydra said.

revenue bonds to be issued by the Port District.

Project construction is contingent on getting adequate financing on terms acceptable to the Port District.

There are seven components to the improvement project. They are:

- Construction of a truck-rail receiving facility;
- Pavement of 4,368 feet of port district roadways;
- Construction of a run-around track at the Tri-City terminal;
- Construction of a double lead track providing access to the harbor complex;
- Expansion of rail trackage to improve service to the dock side bulk terminal;
- Construction of two dry bulk storage domes;
- A general cargo dock rail extension.

State merit scholarships awarded

Over $1.5 million has been awarded to Illinois Merit Recognition Scholarship (MRS) winners by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission (ISSC).

The ISSC has paid this money on behalf of 3,104 students enrolled at 92 Illinois institutions. These students graduated from the top 10 percent of their 1985 high school classes. This is the first year of funding for the MRS program. An additional $1 million will be awarded during this school year.

"The majority of the students are attending public four-year institutions," said ISSC spokesman Bob Clement.

The largest number of MRS recipients are enrolled at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (1,157), Illinois State University (142), Southern Illinois University - Carbondale (111) and the University of Illinois at Chicago (100).

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Over the years, various state legislatures have passed certain laws in an attempt to prohibit specific conduct. At times these laws have been challenged as being "unconstitutionally vague." As an example, 20 years ago many states passed laws prohibiting loitering in an attempt to allow local police departments to arrest undesirable persons who were standing on street corners. Most of these laws were struck down because individuals did not know exactly what conduct was prohibited.

These laws were recently challenged on this same basis. In 1983, the legislature passed the Illinois Public Demonstrations Law which stated that it was unlawful for any group to participate in any march or gathering on roadway or sidewalk which would obstruct pedestrian or vehicle traffic. The law also prohibited any group which was planning a march or gathering on roadway to have to give notice to the "principal law enforcement officer" regarding the plans at least 24 hours in advance.

In June of 1984, 21 people were arrested at an arsenal in Rock Island, Illinois, during a demonstration against nuclear weapons. They were arrested while sitting or lying in the street, failing a warning by police officers to clear the roadway. The defendants were charged with violations of the Illinois Public Demonstrations Law, and they claimed the statute as being "unconstitutionally vague."

Is this law specific enough with regard to what is required of people who wish to conduct a march on a highway? The Courts have indicated that a law must spell out exactly what activity is prohibited so that a person can steer clear of the prohibited conduct. The Illinois Supreme Court noted in an earlier case that vague laws trap the innocent by not providing fair warning.

The Supreme Court felt that the portion of this law which required notice to a "principal law enforcement officer" on a highway to the principal law enforcement officer was "unconstitutionally vague."

It never defined who this officer was.

The person or group who intended to demonstrate had no way of knowing whether the notice should be given to the sheriff, the chief of police, the State Police Department, or a circuit attorney.

Furthermore, it was unclear whether notice was to be given to the "principal law enforcement officer" where the march originated, where it terminated, or to every town it passed through.

For these reasons, the Illinois Supreme Court found the Illinois Public Demonstrations Law to be unconstitutional.

Christmas concert set by GCHS

The Granite City High School Vocal Music Department will present its annual Christmas concert on Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Students from the advanced mixed chorus, girls' glee club, combined and swing choir will be performing.

The advanced mixed chorus will sing "The Hallelujah Chorus," "He, Watching over Israel," "Agnes Déli," "Ring Those Christmas Bells," "Night Before Christmas," "The Night before Christmas," with Bob Rains, Holly Braundmeier, Beth Dunn, Kris Curtis and Jeff Kopsie portraying Santa Claus.

Contando will perform the "Alleluia" from "Missa 'Exultate Cantemus,'" "Music Box Carol," "Now Is the Carolling Season" and "An Irving Berlin Christmas," which includes the traditional song "White Christmas."

The swing choir will sing "The Carol of the Bells," "Angels We Have Heard on High," "Deck the Torch," "What Child Is This," "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town," "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" and "Here Comes Santa Claus."

The girls glee club will present the numbers "Now That Christmas Was Meant for Children," "I'll Be Home for Christmas," and "Do You Hear What I Hear?"

Holly Braundmeier will sing "O Holy Night," and Cindy Coakley will sing the other solo for the evening. "Mister Santa" will be Contando and Soto will be singing the duet "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree," and Brian Davis, Paula Evans, Melissa Murray and Mike Votoupal will sing the number, "Be a Santa."

At the end of the concert, the au-

"T'WAS THE NIGHT Before Christmas" will be performed by GCHS vocal students, from left, Holly Braundmeier, Shari Stephens, Michael Derr and Robert Rains.

Accompanists for the evening are Jennifer McNeilly, Delta Corbit, Theresa Johnson, Amy Willaredt and Jody Lipe.

Non-traditional Christmas trees increasing in popularity

Lately there has been a growing interest in using non-traditional Christmas trees. The large evergreens are certainly magnificient.

But, in these days of apartments and small spaces (if long on charm), people have been forced to put their creativity to use by designing trees which fit in with the small scale of their living quarters.

Whether you opt to decorate a branch with homemade paper decorations or use your imagination to design something else, there's sure to be a tree that's right for your lifestyle.

The earliest Christmas trees were small pyramid-like structures laden with small toys. When the tradition spread to Germany, the evergreen became popular and was a symbol of life in the midst of the long winter.

Trees can be fashioned from paper, fabric, ticker tape, pine cones, sea shells — just about any-

Decorate well

Holiday decorations don't have to be elaborate or expensive. A few key accents from your favorite department store or florist may be all you need to set the pace. Then do the rest with imagination.

Some of the cheapest and most festive transforms for holiday rooms, says Mary Gillatt, author of "Decorating on the Cheap" (Workman Publishing), are greenery, lighting and color.

You can pep up a room by adding a contrast border around the walls

(See DECORATE, Page 6B)

Cards began in 1843

What probably was the first Christmas card appeared in 1843 and was designed by John Colco Horstey.

His first Christmas card was comissioned by Sir Henry Cole an took the form of an oblong sheet with three sections. In the center was a drawing of a middle-class Victorian family at Christmas dinner.

On one side was a depiction of good Samaritan feeding the hungry; On the other, a drawing showed another good soul clothing the naked. In this case the supposed naked figure was drawn full clothed.

Children like to get sleds on Christmas

For the active child, there's nothing like a fast sleigh ride down a steep hill.

It is of key importance to understand that, no matter what brand of sled you buy, it is easier to steer the vehicle if the crosspiece that is attached to the runners is jointed instead of stationary.

Sliders and various "novelty" sliders are not as safe as sleds because they lack the steering crosspiece.

The following tips may be helpful in considering the right novelty sled:

- 1) Pull the hand straps hard to make sure they are secure.

- 2) Don't let appearance fool you. Lift the slider to be certain it's as light as it looks. Believe it or not, some sliders weigh more than sleds.

- 3) Buy plastic for a smooth ride; avoid metal on snow-covered hills.

Be aware, though, that the ride is smoother because aluminum dents easily while absorbing the shocks from bumps.

PRESCRIPTIONS ARE OUR MOST IMPORTANT BUSINESS

Illinois Bell Telephone Company offering gift telephone services this season including gift tab for friends and relatives

Illinois Bell is introducing a new service this holiday season for shoppers wanting to send presents to people with the "gift of gab."

The company's new gift service lets customers give telephone service as gifts to friends and relatives. Shoppers can order the services and receive a certificate to send as a greeting card or use as a stocking stuffer.

The gift service can be used throughout the year for birthdays and other gift occasions.

"We're looking for a unique present for that special someone who seems to always be on the phone, you can give them call waiting," said Charlotte Randolph, product manager for the company's custom calling services. Call waiting — one of a number of features that extends the capabilities of a customer's telephone line — lets customers answer a second call while putting the first one on hold.

"You'll benefit from your own gift because you no longer get busy signals when you call that person," Randolph said. "The friend or loved one benefits because he or she doesn't have to worry about missing important calls."

When ordering any of the services as gifts, shoppers agree to pay the installation charge and then pay the monthly service charge for a predetermined period. For example, giving call waiting to a friend costs $29 for three months. A three-feature package including call waiting, three-way calling and call forwarding costs $39.50 for three months.

Some charges will appear on the shopper's Illinois Bell bill and can be paid up front or in monthly installments.

"The gift service is ideal for the shopper who's looking for a different gift and needs to defer payment," Randolph said, adding that the company needs about a week to send the certificate and get the gift recipient's service hooked up.

Interested holiday shoppers can call Illinois Bell at 1-800-535-6000, extension 45, to order or get more information about gift ideas, pricing and payments. Custom calling services are currently available to about three out of every four Illinois Bell customers.

Holiday recipes plum crazy

Today's Steamed Christmas Pudding may be made with either raisins, cranberries or a combination of both, depending on what you've got in your holiday larder. But you can call it a plum pudding if you like.

Laced with liquor (ho ho ho, and a bottle of brandy!), it makes an impressive yuletide gift, if you keep your hands off it.

STEAMED CHRISTMAS PUDDING

1 cup seedless raisins or cranberries, or combination of both
1 cup water
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
½ cup molasses
½ cup sugar

1 egg
1½ cups flour
1 tsp. baking soda
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. ground allspice
Dash ground nutmeg
3 tbsps. minced candied citrus peel
2 tbsps. brandy

Place fruit in small bowl. Measure water into glass measuring cup and microwave until boiling, 2 to 2½ minutes. Pour over fruit and let stand.

In large bowl beat together butter, molasses, sugar and egg until creamy. Set aside.

Sift together flour, baking soda, allspice and nutmeg. Add to creamed mixture alternately with fruit/water mixture. Stir in candied citrus peel.

Turn batter into 2-quart glass fluted ring mold and cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power) 15 to 17 minutes, rotating dish ¼ turn every 5 minutes. Pudding should be set, but still appear damp on surface.

Let stand 10 to 20 minutes before turning out onto cooling rack. Drizzle brandy over top.

When cool, wrap tightly in plastic wrap and allow to age, at room temperature, about 1 week before slicing. Serve with Hard Sauce.

Serves 10.

Try this topper for your Christmas pudding

BRANDIED HARD SAUCE
1 (1 lb.) box powdered confectioner's sugar
½ cup brandy
Dash salt
½ cup butter or margarine

Combine all ingredients in small glass mixing bowl, placing butter on top.

Microwave, uncovered, 1½ to 2 minutes on HIGH (100 percent power) setting.

Remove from oven and beat with rotary beater, at highest setting, until mixture is smooth. Serve over Steamed Christmas Pudding.

Makes about 2 cups.

Some stocking stuffers just sure to please

Having trouble thinking of goodies to stuff into your family's Christmas stockings?

Here are a few suggestions that might add to the holiday fun:

• Small coloring books and crayons and small coloring books; and there are plenty of small toys — from Yo-Yos to miniature cars to doll's house furniture — that are sure to bring a light to their eyes.

The chef of the house might enjoy some small kitchen utensils and some pretty bottles filled with herbs and spices.

Mom will be sure to appreciate bath salts and soap in the same fragrance.

And for Dad, how about a miniature tool set or a subscription to his favorite magazine?

Don't forget that everyone from Grandma to Junior enjoys sweets: candy canes and chocolate Santas wrapped in bright foil make a nice finishing touch.

Church Activities

SS Cyril and Methody welcomes new pastor

The congregation of SS. Cyril and Methody Eastern Orthodox Church announced the arrival of the Rev. George E. Hertz as the new pastor.

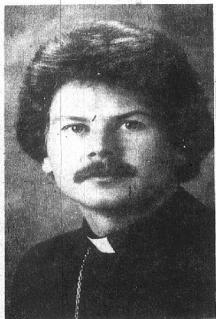

He is a native of Bridgeport, Conn., and is a graduate of the Fairfield College Preparatory School. He holds a B.A. in history and German from Jacksonville University in Jacksonville, Fla., and graduated in May of this year from St. Tikhon's Orthodox Theological Seminary with the academic distinction of Maximus Cum Laude.

While attending the seminary, Father Hertz received an M.A. in religious education from Marywood College in Scranton, Penn., the majority of his credits completed in the area of modern historical biblical criticism. He was also elected as an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1984 due to outstanding leadership in the community.

After completing an initial year of studies at Christ the Saviour Seminary in Johnstown, Penn., Rev. Hertz transferred to St. Tikhon's Seminary where he was tonsured a reader by His Grace, the Rt. Rev. Herman, Bishop of Philadelphia and Eastern Pennsylvania.

Father Hertz was later ordained to the diaconate on the Feast Day of the Transfiguration, July 19, 1983, on Aug. 28, and on Sept. 1 was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by His Grace, Bishop Herman.

On April 28, he married the former Suzanna Bortniak of Allentown, Penn. Popida Suzanna is from a priestly family and is the granddaughter of the late Mitred Archpriest Dimitri Ressetar and the niece of the Very Rev. Daniel Ressetar of Harrisburg, Penn.

Upon the recommendation of His Beatitude, Metropolitan Theodore of the Orthodox Church in America, he was placed by the Chancery in the Bulgarian Diocese and in the community of SS. Cyril and Methody by his diocesan bishop, the Rt. Rev. Kirill, Bishop of Pittsburgh and the Bulgarian Diocese of Toledo.

Christmas musical at Calvary Baptist

The congregation of SS. Cyril and Methody Eastern Orthodox Church announced the arrival of the Rev. George E. Hertz as the new pastor.

He is a native of Bridgeport, Conn., and is a graduate of the Fairfield College Preparatory School. He holds a B.A. in history and German from Jacksonville University in Jacksonville, Fla., and graduated in May of this year from St. Tikhon's Orthodox Theological Seminary with the academic distinction of Maximus Cum Laude.

While attending the seminary, Father Hertz received an M.A. in religious education from Marywood College in Scranton, Penn., the majority of his credits completed in the area of modern historical biblical criticism. He was also elected as an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1984 due to outstanding leadership in the community.

After completing an initial year of studies at Christ the Saviour Seminary in Johnstown, Penn., Rev. Hertz transferred to St. Tikhon's Seminary where he was tonsured a reader by His Grace, the Rt. Rev. Herman, Bishop of Philadelphia and Eastern Pennsylvania.

Father Hertz was later ordained to the diaconate on the Feast Day of the Transfiguration, July 19, 1983, on Aug. 28, and on Sept. 1 was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by His Grace, Bishop Herman.

On April 28, he married the former Suzanna Bortniak of Allentown, Penn. Popida Suzanna is from a priestly family and is the granddaughter of the late Mitred Archpriest Dimitri Ressetar and the niece of the Very Rev. Daniel Ressetar of Harrisburg, Penn.

Upon the recommendation of His Beatitude, Metropolitan Theodore of the Orthodox Church in America, he was placed by the Chancery in the Bulgarian Diocese and in the community of SS. Cyril and Methody by his diocesan bishop, the Rt. Rev. Kirill, Bishop of Pittsburgh and the Bulgarian Diocese of Toledo.

The musical will be the birth of Jesus, the spirit of love, woven through the centuries and still a part of the texture and color of our lives today. Soloists include Rhonda Briggs, Barbara Glowacki, Ellen Herring and Karla Terry. The public is invited to attend both of the special Christmas presentations.

First Presbyterian announces programs

The annual First Presbyterian program will be held at First United Presbyterian Church, 2nd Street and Delmar Avenue, will be performed at 9 a.m. Sunday, Dec. 22, according to the Rev. Richard Hunt.

This particular program will include the creation of the five manager scenes.

Also on that date, the youth of the church will go caroling at 5 p.m., and after touring the neighborhood in song will return to the church for refreshments.

Rev. Hunt will officiate at a candlelight communion service on Tuesday, Dec. 24, at 10:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

As a community service, the deacons will prepare food baskets on Friday, Dec. 20, at 7 p.m. and deliver them on Saturday, Dec. 21. Any member of the congregation who wishes to make a donation of food or money is to have it at the church no later than Sunday, Dec. 15.

Lutheran High students to perform Friday

"O Come, Let Us Adore Him," the title of the annual Christmas Concert of Metro-East Lutheran High School, will be presented at Hope Lutheran Church, Granite City, on Dec. 13 at 7:30 p.m. The concert will feature music of many different lands in many different ways.

A highlight of the concert will be the presentation of a portion of the Vivaldi "Gloria," accompanied by a small baroque orchestra. Refreshments will follow the concert in the fellowship hall at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave.

Grace Baptist to host religious services

Grace Baptist Church, 2600 Edwards St., will host a day-long religious service featuring Nick Staney, stepbrother of the late Elvis Presley, beginning on Dec. 14 through Dec. 16.

Services will begin each night at 7 p.m. and on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 10:30 a.m.

Staney will recount his story of living and working with the "king of rock and roll" and enjoying "the good life" with money, cars, travel and big-name friendships.

According to the announcement, the "good life" will include drug addiction and alcoholism.

Christmas activities at Word of Life Church

The Adult Choir of Word of Life Tabernacle will perform segments of the Christmas cantata, "Cradle the King With Praise," at Colonial Haven Nursing Home on Saturday, Dec. 14, at 2 p.m. The cantata, complete with narration, solos and duets, as well as several familiar Christmas carols, will be included in the presentation.

A full program featuring the choir will be presented to the congregation on Sunday, Dec. 22, at 7 p.m. and the children's group, ages 6 to 16, will present a Thanksgiving program on Thursday, Dec. 19, at 7 p.m., under the direction of Lisa Crippen and Gay and Neva Lucas. They will sing solos and perform duets and ensembles.

Christmas choral celebration at Trinity Methodist Church

The chancel choir of Trinity United Methodist Church, 25th and Henry streets, will present a Christmas choral celebration on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m.

The cantata, "Thou Shall Call His Name Jesus" will be directed by David Bryant assisted by Pamela Lorraine Johnson and featuring soloist to be Henry Lee's "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence;" Wanda Robeff, "What's Goin' On In There?" Charles Herman, "Shepherd's Song;" David Bryant, "Thou Shall Call His Name Jesus;" The Rev.

Mike Smith, "Song of The Wiseman;" Karol Bryant, "I Will Magnify The Lord;" Karen Graef, "For God So Loved The World;" Paula Lewis, "Jesus The Light of The World;" and a duet, "More Than Wonderful" by Karol and David Bryant. Narrator will be William Metcalfe.

Other members of the choir are Gilbert Robeff, Mae Lee, Sharon Smith, Mary Bryant, Joyce Harris and Sarah Metcalfe. The public is invited to attend, the pastor said.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morris

Morris-Gibson

Gretchen Ann Gibson and Ernest Lee Morris were married Oct. 12 at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church by Father James Meehling.

The bride is the daughter of Glenn and Barbara Gibson of Granite City and the groom is the son of Charles and Anna Morris of Granite City.

The maid of honor was Delores Straubinger and the bridesmaids were Lisa Burns, Pam Hendrickson, sisters of the groom; Denise Carich, Lorett Straubinger, Joyce and Julia Downey.

The ring man was Mike Morris, a brother of the groom, and the groomsmen were Peter Gibson, brother of the bride, Charles Morris, Paul Morris, brothers of the groom, Dave Wise and Jerry Feltz.

The flower girl was Emily Garafoli, and Patrick Gibson, brother of the bride, carried mothers' presentation roses.

Offertory gifts were carried by Ruth Circle meets at Niedringhaus

A Christmas program entitled "The Names of Jesus" was presented by Carol Jennings at a meeting of Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus Methodist Church.

The group met in the church parlor and Betty McClintock and Anna Kagi served as co-hostesses. Juanita Brown also read a poem.

Judith Hayden, aunt of the bride, and Herbert Wilper, grandfather of the bride.

A reception was held at Engelbert Hall, Madison. Guest book attendant was Sue Morris, mother of the groom. Programs were distributed by Frances Leonard, wife of the groom, and singers were Larry Heagy and Laura Compton.

After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple moved to Granite City.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Granite City High School North and received a medical assistant degree from Belleville Area College. She is employed by Dr. M. Jamil of Madison as a medical assistant secretary.

The groom is a 1977 graduate of Granite City High School North, attended Rankin Technical School and is self-employed at Morris Heating and Air Conditioning Inc. of Granite City.

Ruth Circle meets at Niedringhaus

on "Old Friends," followed by a Christmas prayer. Dorothy Whitmer gave the lesson for the Least Coin, entitled "New Horizons for Peace."

Sharon Shafer, circle leader, presided at a business segment where Mrs. Whitmer and Irene Kenner were named leaders for the forthcoming year.

Anniversary party fetes Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wade will be guests of honor at a dinner Dec. 21 at Christ the King Church in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. Wade and his wife, the former Frances Leonard, were married Dec. 17, 1935, at St. Joseph's Rectory. They are both lifelong residents of Granite City.

They have a son and a daughter. Their son, Harry Wade, is a professor at East Texas State University and resides with his wife in Commerce, Texas.

Their daughter, Mrs. James (Joey) Griffin, is a payroll supervisor for Olin Corp. and lives in Granite City with her family.

Mr. Wade owned City Plumbing Co. for about 12 years and then was associated with Amsco Plumbing until his retirement in 1975. They have nine grandchildren.

Reservations due for Gateway party

Reservations are being accepted for the annual Christmas dinner party of Gateway Business and Professional Women's Organization, to take place at the Lions Club, 910 Madison Ave., Madison, on Dec. 16.

Members and guests are advised to contact Ollie Derr at 877-8251 or Ruth Nicholas at 877-8393 for reservations, $26 each.

Those attending are to bring a $3 exchange gift to the social event to begin at 6:30 p.m. and are also asked to bring canned foods to be used to prepare yuletide baskets for Alpha Center for Women and Phoenix Crisis Center for abused women and children.

A surprise visit from Santa Clause will highlight the evening, according to the chairmen.

Pioneers' height silences Warriors in opener

GRANITE CITY'S Marla Toeniskoetter

By GREGG OCHOA

Executive Sports Editor
GRANITE CITY—The Pioneers were a little nervous Monday night as their girls basketball team took to the floor of Memorial Gymnasium.

"Once the game got under way, everything was all right," said Hutchings, who was coaching his first game for the Granite City Pioneers. "If the Warriors were nervous, you couldn't tell it by their play in the opening quarter. It was by far Granite City's best basketball."

However, in the end, Assumption used its superior height to take a 54-41 victory in a non-conference basketball game.

"I think the game was a lot closer than the score," Hutchings said. "I was pleased with the way we played. Naturally, we made some mistakes, but we were very competitive against a fine team."

Assumption won its regional last season, but the Pioneers looked nothing like a playoff team in the opening quarter.

"I think they rattled them a bit," Hutchings said. "That was our plan. We wanted to try and force some things and cause some problems."

Granite City jumped out to a 3-0 lead early and frustrated the Pioneers offense. In fact, Assumption's first 10 possessions resulted in a turnover or a weak shot.

"It was really surprised they came out and pressed us and stayed with it as long as they did," said Assumption Coach Evertte Stuckey.

The Warriors responded well. So well, in fact, Assumption had scoreless for half of the opening quarter. Latonia Harris broke the drought with a basket underneath the half. Assumption had padded its lead to 25-12 at the opening period.

"In the going we just didn't execute," Stuckey said. "Also, I think it was a case of the girls not listening to and following instructions."

The Pioneers lost their second and third leading scorers (Natalie McCoy and Akila Moody) to graduation, but may have found more than adequate replacements in Harris and Praha Martin.

Harris scored 18 points to tie Tami Tigue with game-high honors. But where Assumption won the game was on the boards. Both Harris and Marion pulled down 13 rebounds.

There were just too physical and too tall for the Warriors.

"That's a problem we are going to have to work all year long," Hutchings said, noting his team's lack of size.

It took Assumption a while to put them together. And, quite honestly, Granite City outplayed the Pioneers in the first quarter.

Led by Alicia Toeniskoetter and Alicia Melton, the Warriors built a 9-3 lead. Granite City responded on Tigue, Assumption's center, and Harris came down in the first quarter.

However, the Pioneers slowly chipped away. A steal and layup by Yvonne Jones and a basket by Harris brought Assumption back. Harris came up with a jumper and the game was tied, 13-13, after the first quarter. Harris had eight points in the quarter.

Unfortunately for Granite City, all of the good things that happened in the first quarter started to erode.

Tigue, who was six points in the second quarter, scored 12 points in the second quarter. With 3:02 left in the half, Assumption had padded its lead to 25-12 at the opening period.

Granite City made a run near the two-minute mark and cut the deficit to 29-23 on baskets by Beth Barrington and Loretta Cox. But that was as close as the Warriors could get.

The score was 31-23 at the half.

The Assumption offense then shifted into high gear in the third quarter. Tigue got better as the game progressed. Harris dominated the boards, and the Pioneers moved to 34-23.

Baskets by Lisa Wiser, Karen Sykes and Melton were all the Warriors could muster. Assumption broke the Warriors' press and were able to hit the open man with ease.

Granite City, however, capitalized on the quicker Assumption players and took advantage.

"The most frustrating thing about that was all the reaching we did," Hutchings said. "They would try for the steal instead of controlling the man-to-man."

Assumption was just too fast.

Offensively, the Warriors were bothered by a 2-1-2 zone. It forced Granite City to take many bad shots.

The Warriors were 19-of-41 (46 percent) from the floor.

"We got a little excited," Hutchings said. "The plays worked in practice, but when we didn't open up, we didn't know what to do."

All things considered, Hutchings saw some good things.

"I was real pleased with the way we handled their press and I found out I have some bench strength," he said. "Lisa Wiser made some things happen and Shelia (Noel) played well."

Skaters get 2 wins

Although continuing to fight injuries, Granite City High School hockey team added two more wins to its ledger this week.

Saturday, the Warriors blasted Bishop DuBourg, 12-0, at the Affton Ice Rink and followed up Monday with a 6-2 win at home against Hazelwood East.

Granite City has now won five of its last six outings after an 0-2 start, and they stand at 5-3.

Collin Harlan was in goal Saturday to pick up his first shutout of the year against Bishop DuBourg, while Lee Schreiber paced the offense with four goals.

Senior Tom Schnefke was in goal Monday, backstopping the Warriors to the win. Doug Sues opened the scoring with an unassisted goal.

Other goals in Monday's game came from Jim Roberson, assisted by Jay Strothe; Tom Brown, assisted by Rich Grogan and John Rockicki; and Peoria, from Schreiber, Grogan, from Brown and Strotheide; and Bill Moore, from Garry Henson.

"It was a big win for us," said Warrior Coach Garry Schnefke. "We've been fighting some injuries early in the year. Todd Hintersher probably won't be back until around the first week in January."

Hintersher is the leading scorer for Granite City with eight goals this year. He has a shoulder injury. Moore, whom Henson rated as probably his second-best player, missed four games due to a suspension and Fedora has also been injured.

The Warriors are off until Monday when they have a game against Vianney at 8:30 p.m. at the Wilson Park Rink. They then travel to Queeney Park in St. Louis for a date Dec. 21 against DeSmet.

Henson said the team is looking forward to receiving its new traveling jerseys within the next few weeks.

"We wore our old uniforms at the Arena last year (in the Mid-States Club Hockey Association final) and heard some comments that they weren't that great," Henson said.

So a request was made to the Granite City Jaycees, the major benefactor of the team, and the new jerseys will arrive soon.

Dutchmen stop Stars, 64-58

By GARY KING

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY—It's a day that every father fears—the day his teenage son takes him out to the driveway for a friendly game of one-on-one...and wins. His little boy has suddenly grown up.

Although the GCC Stars didn't beat their parents, the BAC Dutchmen they did show them that they're not kids anymore.

GCC gave a valiant effort, but fell just a little short as they dropped a 64-58 decision to the Dutchmen in a junior college basketball game.

"It was really surprised they came out and pressed us and stayed with it as long as they did," said Assumption Coach Evertte Stuckey.

The Stars' defense was the best we've seen all year," said Collins.

Things did not begin all that well for the Stars, as they fell behind them in the opening 30-23 with just over two minutes remaining in the first half. However, the Dutchmen learned just how quick GCC can leave a team seeing Stars' (pardon the pun).

Quick baskets by Mullens and Alvin Johnson drew the Stars' to

Two quick hoops by Reggie Mullens and Alvin Johnson gave the Dutchmen a 32-30 lead with just seconds left in the half. But, a shot at the buzzer gave BAC a 32-30 lead at the intermission.

GCC took their first lead of the contest at 41 in the second half after Robinson hit a short jumper which put the Stars' up 38-36. The two squads then exchanged baskets until the nine minute mark.

With just one minute left in the game, Mullens left the game to the score tied at 48-48, the Dutchmen regained the lead on a free-throw by forward Brian Tisdale and a three-point play by center Jeff Myers. The lead would be one that BAC would refuse to give to for the remainder of the contest.

The Stars' had a number of chances to narrow the gap in the last six minutes, but due to turnovers they were unable to do so.

Trailing 57-52, the Stars' regressed the clock to a one-and-one. They then regained possession on a Dutchmen turnover, but were unable to put the ball in the hoop.

Quick baskets by Mullens and Alvin Johnson drew the Stars' to within 58-56, but it would be the Dutchmen who would get as BAC's Jeff Kallal and Ollie Bellinger each sank a pair of free-throws to clinch the victory for the Dutchmen.

Jones led a very balanced GCC scoring attack as he scored 14 points in the contest. Alvin Johnson contributed 12 points and 4 rebounds; Robinson finished with 10 points, while Mullens had 9 for the Stars'.

The Dutchmen were paced by Tisdale, however, who had 18 points. Joe Champlie picked up 12, while Myers contributed 8. Kallal and Yvonne rounded on the BAC scoring with 6 and 4 points, respectively.

Collins thought the difference in the game was the stars initially had a hard time when they were most needed. He accredited the Dutchmen defense with causing the Stars' to "force some shots".

"The tempo of the game was fine, but we didn't get to run as much as we wanted to. We are really a fast-break team, but they (BAC) didn't let us get too many tonight. We were patient with our shots to a point, but when it came time to make the big basket, we tended to force our shots."

Our shooting was sort of off and on during the game, but I think BAC deserves a lot of the credit for that. They played a good defensive ballgame," said Collins.

The play of Jones was one of many bright spots in the game. He thinks that Jones is "improving with every game." "Perry played a good game for us tonight. He had 14 points and 4 rebounds, that's a good game for anybody," said Collins. "He seems to be improving with each game we play."

Collins hopes that his squad will continue to improve throughout the season, because their schedule will become more difficult as the season progresses.

"We have to keep getting better, because we play tougher teams each game. Thursday we play Kaskaskia, they were the No. 7 junior college in the nation last year. That will be our toughest match-up by far, this season," said Collins.

After the game, most of the players had left the GCC gymnasium Monday evening, one man stuck around for a word with Collins. It was Dutchemer coach Jay Harrington.

"Terry, I just want you to know that you've got quite a team here, that was a great ballgame your guys played tonight. I give all the credit to you for making this program as good as it has become," praised Harrington.

You better watch it dad, your little boy is growing up and getting awfully strong.

GCC wrestlers at nightclub

For those of you who like your rock 'n roll and wrestling together, Saturday is the night.

The Granite City Campus wrestling team will be going against Forest Park Community College at 7 p.m. Saturday at Granny's Rocker, a nightclub on Route 159 in Glen Carbon.

This was the idea of Coach Norm Dusum, who noticed wrestling matches taking place in beer halls during his tour of Europe last summer, according to GCC Athletic Director Terry Dill.

Competing with Forest Park, the No. 19 rated wrestling team in the country among junior colleges, to get an OK on the unusual setting. A KSHB-FM disc jockey is also scheduled to appear.

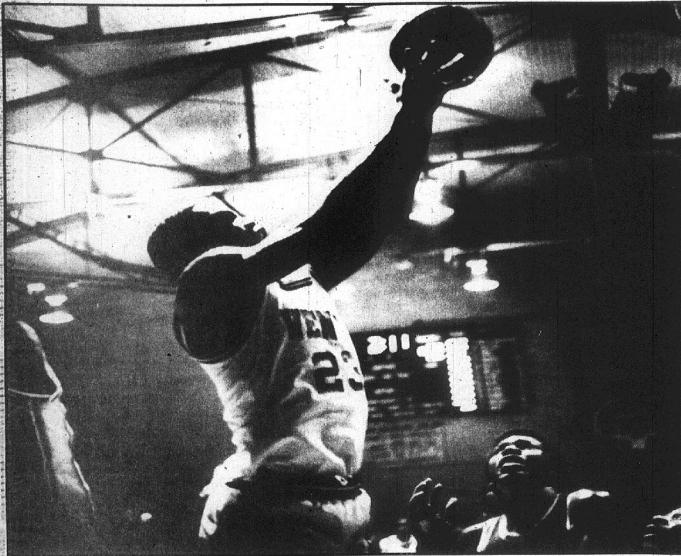

To all sports fans, the knowledge to realize that it's just a game.

That's my list, I've checked it twice. Hope you can fill it.

Thanks Santa. See you next year.

May limit Madison garage sales

Chief of Police William Papa addressed the Madison City Council Dec. 3, asking that committee members from the city attorney draft some type of ordinance regulating garage sales.

"There is no such document at the present time and we are plagued with weekend garage sales presented by the same individuals. Since other cities prohibit a person from having a permit for garage sales more than once a year, I think this would be worth discussing for Madison."

"On the same subject, the council agreed five years ago to review all city ordinances and discard those that were outdated. This was never done," Papa said.

"There is an ordinance dealing with cows and chickens that we do not need. Every time I need to go to an ordinance, the city collector and I have to look up old codes and all we find are the old ones. I think now is the time to modernize the documents and files."

Larry Hartman, city attorney, was instructed to investigate and arrange at an estimate of the cost of organizing the city's laws. The new system would include a cross-filing index.

The aldermen voted to install traffic controls at three intersections, James and Reynolds streets, Stanton and Meridian avenues, and Gillespie Street and Meridian Avenue. If arrested for disobeying, a motorist will face a fine of up to $50.

Promoted by Smith

Peter Miller, 48, has been named vice president of industrial relations for the Automotive Products Co. of A.O. Smith Corp. The announcement was made by Paul J. Kemp, president of Automotive Products, who said the promotion will be effective Jan. 1. Miller will replace Edward J. O'Connor, who will become vice president of human resources.

Church Activities

New Salem Youth Choir to perform at Union Station

The 50-voice Youth Choir of New Salem Baptist Church Venice will present a program of Christmas music at Union Station in St. Louis at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Consisting of children and young people between the ages of 6 and 19 years, the church group was invited to appear at Union Station by promoters of the newly created shopping-hotel complex.

The Rev. John Henry Williams is pastor of New Salem Baptist Church located at 1349 Klein St., St. Clair.

The choir also has been invited to sing Christmas cards on Thursday, Dec. 19, at St. Clair Square in Fairview Heights, and on Monday, Dec. 23, at Jamestown Mall in North St. Louis County.

Yuletide programs of Nameoki Presbyterian

"The Man Who Missed Christmas" will be the theme of the Advent message in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Dec. 15. The morning worship service begins at 10:15 a.m., and Sunday church school is at 9 a.m., according to the Rev. Don Pierson.

The annual children's Christmas program will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, under the direction of Kiki Sapp and Judy Hankins. A special treat for all the children will be provided by the Board of Deacons. A dress rehearsal will be held following the morning worship service, and the children will be provided with lunch.

Sandra Goode and Albert Sapp were recently ordained and installed as Elders in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church.

"This is where the decision-making and program development in the local congregation occurs," Pierson said. "The elders serve on the session which is the 'executive committee' of the congregation."

Bill Widdows also returned to the session.

Steve Fuller, Veda Norton, Dorothy Hay and Marion Watson were ordained and installed as deacons. The Board of Deacons is responsible for the hospital and shut in visitation and similar responsibilities. It also is the "fellowship committee" of the congregation seeking to create a continuing climate of caring within the congregation, a spokesman explained.

"Heard the Bells" will be sung on Christmas Sunday morning. Beverly Serrogino directs the Sanctuary Choir, and Jennifer Caumer is the accompanist.

Candlelight service Sunday at St. John

A Christmas candlelight choral service, the congregation's 14th annual, will be held at St. John Lutheran Church, 201 St. Clair Ave., Sunday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m. The general public is invited, Rev. Samuel Boda said.

The opening chorus of Vivat! "Gloria" is the first piece the choir will sing from the church balcony. The organ accompanist for the entire service will be June Barton of St. Louis.

Descending from the balcony, the choir will then sing up and down the aisle in a candlelight procession to the chancel where the Nativity scene will be re-created by youth of the confirmation classes. The choir members will gather around the nativity scene, with each candle lit except for the light of the overhead Moravian (Herrnhuter), and choir and congregation will sing Christmas carols by "starlight."

The choir will then sing Christmas hymns and carols from the chancel steps, with French and German carols to be featured.

Will he be the Messiah's mission when He comes? Two women of the choir will sing the answer to this question: Hilda Messiah and Diane Gebhardt, contralto, will sing, "Then shall the eyes of the blind be opened . . ." and also, "He shall feed His flock like a shepherd." Josephine Diak, soprano, will sing, "Come unto me . . ."

Throughout the service, choir and worshippers will join in new and old Christmas hymns and expressions of praise. The closing set of carols by the choir will include John Boda's "Before the Coming of the Son" and "A Little Bit of Christmas" among others. As in other years, the closing chorus will be the "Hallelujah Chorus," from Handel's Messiah.

A candlelight recessional will follow. The church women's choir will serve refreshments in the church fellowship hall.

Parents Support Group to host holiday party

The Parents Support Group that meets at Mitchell Presbyterian Church on the first and third Tuesdays of the month is celebrating the Christmas season with a party on Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. The affair will include storytelling for the children, singing Christmas carols and refreshments. The party is invited, the group said.

Regular meetings are set to study various aspects of traditional and modern parenting styles and theories, discussion and problem-solving of personal childrearing problems and understanding the various developmental and personality changes in all ages of children.

Members in the group have been able to gain positive parenting skills and form supportive relationships to aid in making wanted changes, it was related.

For more information, interested persons may call Rev. Linda Shugert, 797-1119, or Dixie Johnson, 797-6381.

Valencia Hill named Miss Debuteante 1985

Valencia Lori Hill was named Miss Debuteante 1985 at a social event hosted at Englebert Hall in Madison, sponsored by Mount Neo Baptist Church.

Approximately 200 people attended the affair under the direction of Clara Yount, chairman, and the Rev. Jerome Jackson, pastor.

Miss Hill was escorted by James Treadway Jr. Other debuteantes and their escorts were Kimberly Job, Darnell Marshall Jr., Tina Glaggett, Regina Scott Young, Jane Treadway, Phillip White Jr. and Cassan dra White and Nathan Young.
